

Noel Fudge is a versatile contemporary composer, whose talent ranges from film scores to choral and orchestral works, to singer-songwriter and instrumental music. He holds a BFA in composition from Simon Fraser University, and wrote and performed with the band Crop Circle, a group that received extensive radio play and toured Western Canada, opening for ZZ Top and Bif Naked. He's a singer and a masterful guitarist, whose current projects include composing short film soundtracks with ICandy Films, a variety of studio recording projects, and most notably, his work with the popular West Kootenay based guitar/violin duo, Freya, with violinist Martine denBok. Their self-titled debut album was released in 2017. Noel currently teaches music at his New Denver studio, Fudge Music Factory.
